THE SEA COAST ECHO.

A KNOTTY problem is brewing in newspaper editorial rooms. The line has been drawn. News editors and sports editors, paste pots on shoulder, are standing toe to toe and glaring pointed daggers into each other's eyes. The cause of it all is big, bad Senator Huey P. Long, veteran punch target from Louisiana.

When the bombastic Kingfish's political shindies reached the boiling point, he was considered front page news copy. That was OK with the sport writing fraternity—then. But when "Round-round" Huey persisted in hitting his jaw with somebody's fist in impromptu exhibitions over the country, the sports editors claimed him for the sport page.

And now since Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley, of New Orleans, issued the challenge-of-the-moment to trade fistfights with "Rile 'em up" Huey, the sports editorials are demanding the Kingfish—sound-wagon-and-all.

Maybe someone could persuade the boys to fight it out with cream puffs at ten paces. By charging admission to the "affair d'honneur," the amateur sprint-fighting status of the Kingfish would be affected. . . . and bloodshed averted in gentleman of the press ranks.

AND the smartly who suggests a way to settle the argument by putting the Kingfish in the comic section had better stay out of New Orleans until the battle between state militia and city police has been fought.

SAN ANTONIO joined hands with New Orleans and Shreveport in banning the Marcus Show. The company was scheduled to appear at the Municipal auditorium here on January 18th. Chief objection, apparently, centered about a fan dance in which a shapely young lady gallivants on the stage sans clothes, save for a gyrating fan.

Probably the city authorities know the dividing line between moral and immoral when it comes to theatrical exhibitions. But these self-appointed news standers brazenly displaying filth, degenerate, and sex-suggestive literature, glibly masquerading under the guise of art, psychology, and other sophisticated bunk. These magazines are getting into the hands of child readers. How about a ban on them?

A PARTY of four men were making merry at a house party. The cup that cheers had been filled to overflowing as the evening wore on. Finally, the subject of marksmanship was discussed. One fellow bragged of his ability to handle a rifle. He was champion sharpshooter of the A. E. F., so he said. "Oh, Yeah?" retorted his companions in chorus. Two rifles were secured, and the quartet staggered to the street. Soon the peaceful quietude of the neighborhood was shattered by sound of rifle fire and whizzing bullets. Street lights and chimney tops were used for targets. Terrorized residents telephoned police, and dove under beds, fearing Chicago gangsters had invaded the city. Disarmed by the riot squad, the inebriates claimed they were "just trying to settle a friendly argument." Next day the marksmen practiced spearing the lone bean in a jail house soup bowl.

CHILDREN, and grownups as well, are taking advantage of recreation classes held each week at the local museum under supervision of CWR-paid instructors. Expert instruction in art, tap and ballet dancing, basket weaving, and story telling is given free of charge to the public. The Art and dancing classes have proven most popular.

Congratulations to Marchmont Schwartz on his recent appointment as chief assistant football coach at the University of Chicago. Bay St. Louis can justly boast honor of claiming this illustrious football hero as a native son.

WILFUL violators of NRA codes in San Antonio were raked over the coals by Father Peter M. H. Wynhoven, chairman of United States regional labor board, visiting here during a recent investigation tour extending over several states.

Distressing existing local working conditions were found, especially among firms employing largely Mexican labor. Father Wynhoven stated peon shellers worked 12 hours a day, 6 days per week, to earn less than $3.00. Juvenile garment factories employing Mexican girls and women on piece work basis felt the lash of the militant labor chairman's terse warning to get in line with NRA regulations, or suffer the penalty. These workers are paid only $1 for each 12 hours, requiring 12 hours to complete the task. . . . less than 10 cents an hour. Many other NRA abuses were reported to the government representative, who plans a return visit.

RANDOLPH FIELD, largest aviation training center in the world will soon be on location to actors, directors and cameramen of Fox Films. A thrilling story of modern aviation will be filmed. The title of the picture will be "Flying Wings." Lew Ayres is to play the leading role. Selection of the rest of the cast has not been completed in Hollywood at this time.

VALUED SERVICE MARKS WORK COUNTY WELFARE WORKERS FOR HANCOCK

Miss Vivian Cook Heads Splendid Organization of Government—Giving Greatest Relief to Most Number—Works With Board of Supervisors.

After more than a year of operation the Hancock County unit of the State Welfare Department is running smoothly entirely void of the original stigma of personal gain and selfishness. Miss Vivian Cook, the official head of the unit is not only a splendid, executive but a woman with a keen insight into the needs of the people and a personal and humane interest as to their needs and sufferings.

The Board of Supervisors are being congratulated upon the fact that no personal gain or political favor has been allowed to seep into the organization.

They, with Miss Cook, have stood for the greatest good being done for the greatest number of people. The department could not have weathered the gale without their wholehearted co-operation. One of the truly big things done by the department has been the buying of school books for children whose parents were not able to buy them, but the most needed and most beneficial relief being dispensed through the department now is the serving of lunches to all undernourished children throughout this county.

Many cases of illnesses have been taken care of and medicine bills paid for persons who otherwise could not have had the benefits of professional attention.

Through the untiring efforts of the Home Visitors children have been persuaded to return to school and to attend regularly.

Many homes are being rehabilitated and the morale of families are being raised. New and revived interests are being stimulated by the work of this unit.

Thus it will be seen the Welfare Work activities in Hancock County, as conducted by Miss Vivian Cook, and in a general sense by endorsement of the Board of Supervisors of Hancock county, since all major projects are first discussed with this body in auxiliary capacity, are of more than ordinary accomplishment and mean a great deal to the many who have been aided during the past months of stress.

It is also noted this governmental organization has functioned under the most favorable circumstances, not the slightest friction entering into any detail of organization or its functional exercise. It is, in great measure, that its success is attributed to Miss Cook is experienced and a highly capable young woman and serves the cause admirably. An executive, and surrounded by assistants who cooperate to that point of fullest efficiency, it is no wonder that her efforts have attained marked success.

In addition to relief the Welfare workers have procured from farmers (helping to dispose of their products) large quantities of foodstuffs and this intelligently distributed. It is a splendid work and has meant much to the county and the wish is expressed while also expressing appreciation that the good work may continue and benefit the many.

COLLEGE PARENTS MEETING

Proceedings of Particular And General Interest—Cash Results Announced.

The regular monthly meeting of the Parents' Association was held last Sunday at St. Stanislaus College, with Mrs. Edmund P. Fahey, president, presiding.

A letter from Mr. George R. Rea, chairman of the S. J. A. Carnival was read asking that the Association sponsor a "duke" for the coming entertainment. This was so voted by the members present. It was further agreed that the boy be chosen from the senior class.

Mr. James Grevenberg, treasurer of the association, announced that a total of $1150 had been collected during the past year. It was really the work of seven months as no work was undertaken during the bank vacation, nor during the summer months.

Upon motion of Mr. Grevenberg, the association announced that it would sponsor the annual Mardi Gras dance at the college. Admission to this dance will be by invitation only.

Mr. George Pearce of New Orleans, a member of the American Magicians Society will be invited by the Association to give an entertainment during the month of February for the benefit of the needs of this association.

Uniforms for the college band will be the next work of the club. Already plans have been started whereby the band will have these uniforms before the close of this session.

The net amount derived from the Bazaar given in the early part of December amounted to $194.00. The dance given in New Orleans during the Christmas holidays netted $62.00. The next meeting of the association will take place the third Sunday in February.

FIRE AT WAVELAND SUNDAY

Two Dwellings and Garages Destroyed—Origin of Fire Unknown—Bay Dept. Responds.

Shortly after 7 o'clock Sunday evening fire totally destroyed two small dwellings and two garages, one of the latter of more than ordinary value. The cause of the fire could not be ascertained.

Property destroyed includes one single frame dwelling belonging to C. C. Brown, replacement value approximately $800.00. One frame dwelling, belonging to Louis Schuler, replacement value about $1100.00, and one garage for Dr. J. J. Wymer, valued conservatively at $300.00.

The Schuler property was partially insured while it could not be learned if any loss coverage existed over the balance.

The Schuler family had been over for the day and left, it is said, about 2:30 o'clock on their way back home in New Orleans. The other property was also unoccupied for the present.

Alarm was sounded over the Bay St. Louis fire system and the engine and fire department from this city promptly responded. On arrival on the scene of the fire, however, it was discovered while there was an arson well on the premises there were no fire connection and the regular hose for water could not be used nor the engine. The men of the department used part of the paraphernalia and kept the fire from spreading to the immediate neighborhood in which quite a number of fine beach property exists. Property loss was situated in the rear of major beach residences.

PROPOSED BOND ISSUE FOR CITY IS LOST FOR LACK OF VOTES

Proposition Is Defeated on Face of Returns 287 Against—197 For Issue Proposed.

Election called last Friday for the purpose of allowing the voters of Bay St. Louis an opportunity to vote on the question of whether or not the City of Bay St. Louis shall issue bonds in the sum and amount of $100,000.00 for the project, to-wit:

1. Addition to the Central School, Gymnasium and class rooms.
2. A municipal pier and auditorium.
3. Construction of a public colored school.
4. Addition to and improvement to City Waterworks system.

The vote Friday night, after counted, resulted. For the bond issue, 197. Against bond issue, 287. Consequently on these figures alone the proposed bond issue lost. However, a two-thirds or three-fourths of the registered vote was required to carry the election.

It had been proposed to issue the bonds under auspices of provisions of the PWA governmental administration, but since no active campaign was made for the issue, no mass meetings held, general apathy as to voting is responsible for the loss. On the other hand, tax-payers who contend the city is tax-ridden on account of past bond issues, were active in defeat of the proposition.

LADIES OF BAPTIST CHURCH ORGANIZE SEWING CIRCLE

Adopt New Name and Elect Full Set Officers—To Meet Every Monday

The regular Monday afternoon sewing circle was held with Mrs. J. J. Barker, on Booker street. The main attraction of the afternoon was the contest of selecting a name for the club. Various and sundry names were offered, and after much discussion the name "Ever Welcome Club" was selected.

This name expressed the attitude of each member, and the club as a whole in being ever ready to "Welcome" new members and visitors.

The members present were: Mrs. J. J. Barker, Mrs. W. S. Speer, Miss Evelyn Miller, Mrs. E. Davis, Mrs. A. E. Joyner, Mrs. C. E. Craft, Mrs. J. S. Shaw, Mrs. Laurent Dickson, Mrs. Wallace Vaughn.

Mrs. Laurent Dickson, Chairman, officiated in a very fitting manner. Mrs. Speer, the effective treasurer, informed the club that quite a neat sum had been realized from "gracious gifts" each Monday afternoon. Since Mrs. J. S. Shaw is quite a "regular" and "prompt" member, she was chosen as publicity chairman.

Mrs. J. R. Scharff, Mrs. Harold Rhoden, Mrs. J. J. Barker, and Mrs. Wallace Vaughn, were chosen as the Social Committee.

Every member of the aggressive little club has shown herself to be a gracious and hospitable hostess, and Mrs. J. J. Barker held up the tradition, and served a lovely salad course.

The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Laurent Dickson, Carroll avenue.

From a San Antonio, Texas, newspaper of recent date we copy the following press telegram, dated Dallas, Texas, Dec. 30, in which it shows our former resident and friend, J. N. Wisner, is as active and doing as ever and that his first love, "the show business," is not on the wane. The press telegram says:

Sponsored by J. N. Wisner, former showman and later a prominent southwest cotton broker who is now retired, "Doc" Waddell, widely known as the "Circus Preacher," may appear in a series of short inspirational subjects to be produced independently. Camellia Tree Of Marvelous Size And Beauty on Davis' Place

The annual object of admiration on the premises of Mrs. P. Penn. Davis, her rose-colored, with yellow centers, camellia bush is again in bloom, carrying hundreds of blossoms and showing its exquisite beauty of combined coloring. This bush or tree, situated in the front yard of the Davis dwelling, out Carroll avenue, is 38 years old and is not only remarkable for its size but for the rareness of its loveliness of camellias. Nothing like it is seen hereabouts and it naturally attracts many visitors. The rareness of beauty of the camellia, with its perfect wax-like proportions, has always won the admiration of lovers of flowers. We are of the opinion that nothing like the Davis tree can be found in this section. It is well worthy of owning and an outstanding feature of any garden.

CATHOLIC BOY SCOUT TROOP

Formed For Bay St. Louis Monday Night—Under Auspices Knights of Columbus.

In response to the wishes of the Right Reverend R. O. Gerow, Bishop of Natchez, the local Knights of Columbus have sponsored a Boy Scout troop. Rev. Father Peter Quinn has been appointed diocesan director of the Catholic scouts. Rev. Father Moran, assistant of Our Lady of the Gulf Church has been appointed as local director.

Chief Crow of New Orleans was on hand Monday night to tell the boys the advantages of the Boy Scouts and to enlighten them as to the requirements of a good scout.

Father Quinn outlined the objects of the Catholic troop. It was proposed that the members should approach Holy Communion at least once a month. A retreat of five days would be held some time during the summer. This would be more or less a camping trip and would be of benefit not only physically but spiritually as well.

Knights of Columbus present were: Grand Knight, A. G. Favre; Harry Glover, C. A. Gordon, and August Schiro.

The local troop will hold its next meeting Monday night the 28th in the Junior Study Hall, St. Stanislaus College.

All organized groups in Mississippi interested in the Conservation of Mississippi's Game, Fish and Forests, have joined hands to make of January 29, 1934 to Feb. 2, 1934, a week of Educational value to its citizenry. The program is being sponsored by the following Organizations:

If this is done it is felt that the movement for protection of wild life will be greatly aided.

The carrying out of this program and its effects are of most vital interest to Hancock county, since we have a conservation organization, of which Mr. Jos. O. Muaffray is local president. Miss Vivian Cook, locally located in executive discharge of relief work is secretary for the State Association and Mr. J. Roland Weston of Hancock county is a member of the State Board of Directors.

The program for each day is divided: Tuesday, wild flowers; Wednesday, mineral resources; Thursday, game and fish; Friday special arbor day program.

RECOVERY AND CONSTRUCTION.

"CONVICTION grows," says the Christian Science Monitor, "that there can be no thorough-going recovery in the United States unless and until a healthy volume of ordinary construction shall have been started."

There are definite signs on the horizon that the start is not far away. Public works activities have provided great impetus. Various proposals now being considered to make small home building easier, have created justified hopes for achievements in the near future. And, most important of all is the fact that the wage earner finds himself with steadier work at better pay—and is in need of more and better housing.

During depression there was a minimum of new residential building. Doubling up of families in small homes was common. Thousands of homes were allowed to fall into disrepair, because of lack of funds, and depreciation has been abnormally high. In addition, population changes, fires, tornadoes, floods and other elements have destroyed multitudes of homes or rendered them useless.

Any national movement starts slowly but accelerates with amazing speed. That will be true of new construction. The builder and material makers will be called upon to meet increased demand. Labor and technical supervision may be at a premium. Price rises are unavoidable. The moral is, do your building and repairing now.

FINANCIAL INDEPENDENCE WEEK.

LATE in March there will be an advent of importance to every citizen. For the space of a week an aggressive, planned campaign will be carried on to acquaint him with how to protect his family against potential poverty, how to financially safeguard his old age, how to educate his children, how to provide for himself a safe and certain monthly income for life, how to build an estate or rebuild a depleted one, and so on.

The event will be Financial Independence week. Its motto will be that the corner-stone of man's financial structure is life insurance—and that life insurance, so far as the great mass of persons is concerned, is the most safe and sound of all ways to attain economic independence.

Speakers will elaborate these themes. They will be heard over the radio. There will be articles and local advertisements in newspapers. Periodicals will have special features. Public officials, industrialists and others, in addition to life insurance workers, will cooperate to bring the message of the week before the greatest possible number of people. Results will be of great and lasting benefit. We will come closer to the ideal of a nation free from poverty, free from want and economic disaster, free from all the tragic consequences of improvidence and waste and poor investments.

THIS MAY SURPRISE.

AMERICANS who believe in the invincibility of their own nation will be rather surprised by the statement made by a Dutch general that in the event of the war between Japan and the United States the odds were in favor of a Japanese victory.

The fact that an experienced military man, familiar with the Far East, having been commander-in-chief in Dutch India, should feel that way about a war between the two countries is enough to make Americans sit up and take notice.

The Dutchman is not all wrong. The Japs know that any war between them and America would be decided by a naval battle in the Far East. The American fleet, not nearly as superior to the Japanese fleet as the ordinary American imagines, would be handicapped and seriously weakened by the necessity of fighting thousands of miles away from its people.

PENALIZING DEFAULTERS.

THE nations which have refused to recognize and pay their agreed installments on the debts due the United States Government would be penalized under various proposals made in Congress.

The first suggestion was that the quota of trade allowed them be reduced. Next came a suggestion that all financial transaction be prohibited with nations who have defaulted on their debts. Other suggestions will doubtless be coming forth in the next few years unless these nations recognize their obligations.

Two things should be borne in mind in regard to these debts by the European nations to the United States. First, that they have already been scaled down considerably; France's, for example, to less than one-half of what it would have been. Second, the greater part of these debts does not represent money used to prosecute the World War but was used after the Armistice had been signed.

It is estimated that 2,345,876 merchants cut down their advertising last year.

A new plane is said to travel almost as fast as sound. When one keeps up with rumor man will be able to keep the milk dry.

SHERIFFS AS DISPENSERS.

ONE of Mississippi's outstanding prohibitionists—Senator Roberts, of Rosedale—defers to the data of experience. He now wants to relax the theoretical rigors of the state liquor act, in order to permit strictly regulated sales of hard liquor, and thus take some revenue for the state. Mr. Roberts knows as well as everybody else who has moved about beyond the Pearl that the state is bountifully supplied with firewater by devoted volunteers from Tennessee to the Gulf. But the State doesn't profit by the traffic.

We are very much intrigued by one practical detail in Senator Roberts' proposal. He suggests that the sheriffs do the selling. Everybody knows that moonshining and bootlegging couldn't thrive as joyously as it does in most Mississippi counties without the knowledge of the sheriffs. In some counties the business is matter of common knowledge. Federal agents not long ago indicted several police officials in one or two counties on charges of personal participation in a big rum-running.

If the sheriffs were permitted to make a small percentage of profit on legal liquor-sales, we suspect that moonshining and bootlegging would not be so free and easy in most of their bailiwicks.

We don't endorse the Senator's idea off-hand because it goes rather against the grain to put policemen in the liquor-business. But we don't at the moment conceive any other serious practical objection to it. It would certainly be likely to result in the state getting a lot more revenue from the traffic than some other plan might,—without getting any more liquor than it is already getting.—N. O. Morning Tribune.

CONSERVATION WEEK.

RESIDENTS of Hancock county and the balance of the State as well, the kind representing that element of constructiveness that is best for present and future, will be interested in State-wide program for the observance of Conservation Week in the schools of Mississippi, January 29, February 2, 1934.

This work is sponsored by the Mississippi Federation of Women's Clubs, assisted by Mississippi Congress of Parents and Teachers, Garden Clubs of Mississippi, Mississippi Association for conservation of Wild Life, with the following named State departments co-operating: Department of Education, State Geological Commission, Mississippi State Game and Fish Commission and Mississippi Forestry Commission.

Governor Conner has officially proclaimed Conservation Week under date of January 4. The Echo knows of no work that stands better and for more for both present and future than this broad program of conservation which various organizations and authorities have endorsed and are sponsoring.

The work of conserving the wild life of the State through proper usage is essential to the welfare of our people, says Gov. Conner. And there is no better channel through which to educate than the school house. It is the coming generation that needs to be educated as well as we are being informed and asked to practice such care of our natural resources—soils, water, plant life, animal life and minerals, as is necessary to assure protection. We are glad to know Hancock county has such organization and that its officers and members are evincing considerable interest in the subject.

NEW ORLEANS ELECTION.

WHILE the daily press has already told of the re-election (primary) of Mayor Walmesley as the Democratic nominee to succeed himself as chief executive of New Orleans for the next four years, and how his closest opponent, after counting the votes, withdrew, the weekly newspaper reaches many places and nooks over the country where the daily never penetrates. Hence it will prove of interest to note the figures and results as well. Here they are, as Bill Hay would say:

Walmesley, 47,537 votes; Klorer, 31,951 votes; Williams, 26,954 votes; Holmes, 413 votes. The success of Mayor Walmesley is a decided victory for the regular Democratic, headed by the Choctaw Club, and by no means a victory for Senator Huey P. Long who advocated the election of Klorer by personally participating in the campaign.

A second primary was possible on the face of the returns, but wise heads and others counseled and announced that it would be best for all concerned, principally for the city, on the eve of its great Carnival, to accede Walmesley election and forego another campaign of possible acrimony, mud-slinging and whatnot.

It is a wise decision and well received. Mr. Walmesley is no stranger to this section of the Gulf Coast. He has visited here frequently and participated in the shortcut convention held here some time since under auspices Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce. We congratulate Mr. Walmesley and wish him well for the new four-year term.

PUNISHING KIDNAPPERS

WITH the increased number of kidnappings throughout the United States there is a general demand for more rigorous punishment of those found guilty.

Public sentiment is probably running too strong and it may be doubtful whether these recommendations are wise. We doubt seriously if it would be advisable to make the penalty for kidnapping identical with the penalty for murder, for in this case the kidnapper will have no motive deterring him from killing his victim, which he would have if the murder of his victim would result in more serious punishment than holding him for ransom.

Certainly, nobody sympathizes with the criminal who would thus prey on society—but we should figure, while punishing him, to insure the safety of the lives of children, usually the victim in kidnappings.

Subscribers to The Sea Coast Echo are urged to keep their subscriptions paid in advance. We can print a newspaper with popular support but it is impossible to keep our workmen contented.

MERELY THEORETICAL

By GEORGE E. SCHILLING

REMEDIES

THE suggestion made in this column last issue of a maximum work week of thirty hours and a minimum wage of a dollar an hour as an immediate necessity probably seems quite impossible radical to most readers. It is much easier to accept a new thing, like radio, airplane or television than a new idea. The man in public life, in especial, busied about many things, has little time to think. Perhaps a column may well be devoted to defending the thesis of less work and more pay.

First, in regard to the length of the work week. This is now being more and more accepted. The American Federation of Labor has adopted it as a fixed policy. General Johnson, of the NRA is now talking about a thirty-two hour week, in order to keep the eight-hour work shift. This is a matter of technical detail about which the General knows a great deal more than this writer. We shall not quarrel about a couple of hours. The point is that working time per worker must be drastically reduced in order to spread the work.

Howard Scott says that sixteen hours is long enough, and Scott is probably right, although it would not be practical to make the change in one step. Thirty, or thirty-two hours is practical now, and is necessary in order to take care, even partially, or unemployment. It has recently been figured that a man can do as much work in thirty-five hours now as in fifty-three hours a dozen years ago. We have ten to fifteen million unemployed workers in this country, and that number is not healthy. Including dependents that represents twenty-five to forty million people, or about one-quarter of the total population.

The only practical way to take up this slack is to spread the work among a greater number of workers, and the only way this can be done is by shortening hours. We might cause a return to the slower methods of hand-work by taxing machinery, or power, so as to make them unprofitable. A tax of proper amount, on electric power would probably put every unemployed person in the country to work in the next few weeks, incidentally wrecking some of our largest corporations. But this is a new idea, which could not be explained and "sold" to the public in less than a year or two, and we do not have that much time.

The Civil Works scheme is admitted to be a temporary measure. The President himself says that private industry must provide employment for our people. The CWA is financed by loans, which means that we are in the position of a person who borrows money for living expenses. It is very pleasant while it lasts, but it cannot last indefinitely. It puts money into circulation as long as the payrolls continue, for payroll money is spent as fast as it is received. The improvement due to that factor will continue just as long as the payrolls continue.

Second is the question of wages. A dollar an hour minimum probably seems extravagant, yet it is necessary if we are to employ our idle workers, rescue our farmers and our railroads, save our billion-dollar corporations, and even prevent the government itself from going bankrupt. Our instinct is to cut expenses by firing help and cutting wages, which is a very sure way to bust up the whole organization, such as it is. The key to the paradox is the fact that the worker is also the consumer, the customer, and he cannot buy unless he has the wherewithal to pay. In spite of the tragedies, there is a lot of humor in the spectacle of a lot of million-dollar a year business geniuses working their fool heads off to bust their customers. There cannot be any profits unless there are sales, and there cannot be sales unless there are buyers with money to spend. Higher prices will do no good at all if nobody can pay them.

Mr. George N. Peek, of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, in a magazine article says: "Industry, buying cheap from farmers, sold dear to them." Mr. Peek evidently does not read this column, or he might have avoided that mistake. Industry does not buy from farmers, it is the employees of industry, which as Abe Potash used to say "is something else again, Mawruss." Industry does not eat, and even industrialists do not eat very much, for there are not enough of them. Their employees, whether in white collars or overalls, spend more for less for food and clothes in proportion to the amount of their incomes. As long as the wage and salary worker, in this modern world, is reduced to a diet of rice and beans, or hog and hominy, or similar cheap and filling food items, we can confidently expect trouble over the farm surplus, and low prices for farm products. Putting the worker out on a "subsistence farm" of one to five acres, where he can grow his own garden truck, will merely make the matter that much worse, for it cuts off that much of a market from the farmer.

This column of the newspaper ends before the argument does, that we must cut working hours in order to spread the work and take up unemployment, and that we must also pay well for work in order to provide a market. Workers may not be very important nowadays, because we have so many of them, but customers are overwhelmingly important.

Sapling Sayings

(Activities of C. C. C. Camp; Miss—P-52)

By A. SAP.

THANKS to Louis Carron, and his orchestra, for the splendid music furnished for our camp dance Friday night. The Sap still contends that his is the best rhythm that can be had on the Gulf Coast.

Lt. Farrelly spent the week end in New Orleans with "home-folks."

A little tip to the camp news gatherers. If you failed to go to the dance and wanted to know who "shined" pass by the kitchen the next morning and note the K. P.'s for that day. The Sap noticed five new faces scrubbing the kitchen and mess hall Saturday. See how simple it is to check up on the shiners. Sergeant Schneider misses very few of them.

The basketball team split two games this week—winning very easily from Woolmarket and losing to Pearl River College, Poplarville.

With a few days more practice the basketball team should develop into a first class team. Not having a court of their own to practice on makes it very inconvenient for the boys.

Claude Horton, Cowboy Hinton, Go-Let Davis, and Floyd Dyess took off for Pville to see the camp basketball team in action, so goes the story—everything was lovely till Dyess tried to make a left turn where there was no turn, traveling only fifty miles an hour, then it was just too wet to plow. There were casualties reported. Dyess, suffered a six inch gash in his top-coat and Davis' face was stepped on by Dyess as he climbed from the wreck. Hinton and Horton made a perfect three point landing fifteen or twenty feet from the scene of the accident. Now understand folks the Sap may be wrong for he only saw Dyess' Model A Coupe with a broken front wheel, torn up fender, and crushed top, and was told by Dyess that some one side-swiped him. Horton said maybe so. Davis said he couldn't talk with out seeing his lawyer, and Hinton says he sure did sail a long ways from the rumble seat to be side-swiped. So with all those reports who can we believe?

Fletcher Green, the camp handy man is looking forward to someone leaving him a great fortune, so he can settle down to a quiet life of poodle dog raising.

Wonder when "Dad" Burge will get his pipe line completed?

Mr. Kimball, district forester for this district, spent three days with us this week.

The Captain was raising Cain the other night about the lights being on in No. 3 barracks about twelve o'clock. Upon investigation it was found that it was only "Old Folks" Walters' bald head shining. Keep your hat on "Pappy."

Fletcher Green would not take the firing job for the camp showers until they cut a window in the side of the wall. Now Fletcher can fire up the boiler, look out the window and "watch the drivers rool." Oh, you trainman.

Skinny Ruffin went home this week end so it is supposed he will be able to take it for another week end.

Why does Fred Elzey always blow his horn at a certain white house as he leaves the Bay?

Lt. Tucker and Mrs. Tucker were seen enjoying themselves at the camp dance. Lt. Tucker then spent the week end with his family.

Sgt. Schneider was greatly disappointed when Lt. Tucker took his little boy's tricycle home the other day. Schneider was seen using it to ride around looking up fire details.

The Bay B. Y. P. U. conducted church services for the camp boys here Sunday.

Jack Carmichael was welcomed back by the girls of Cedar Point last week.

"Wormy" Gray was stepping high wide and handsome at the dance. He is really the camp adagio dancer.

Emmett Dunn the new camp mess sgt. has learned the difference between red beans and bad rice. Emmett how long do you boil water?

Ford Smith, forester, is getting up in the world now. He was in one of the camp fire towers this week.

Donald Chapman was welcomed into the camp shiners club this week.

Mr. Givens took one of his famous hunts last week, he brought back a feather he picked up and it took him two days to find it.

Shelby Hatfield asked Max Gandy why he went bird hunting without any shells and Max replied that it was cheaper and he got the same number of birds.

LETTER-WRITING.

(N. O. Morning Tribune.)

POSTMASTER FARLEY suggests continuation of the three-cent postal rate for all but local letter mail, in order that an expected postal-deficit for the coming year may be whittled down.

Perhaps nothing better can be done. When first-class postage was raised to three cents we remarked that it was a dangerous experiment. For years important business orders have been transmitted by telephone and telegraph, along with personal communications of life-or-death-or money importance. Other factors have conspired consistently to reduce the volume of personal letter mail. The automobile has brought within personal touch with each other millions of us who used to exchange letters instead of personal visits across county and state lines. The rush of modern living has both curtailed time for letter-writing and destroyed the serenity which makes letter writing a pleasure. The postage increase was only one of many blows. The letter-writing habit, nationally speaking, may be gone forever. If it is, then Mr. Farley may as well collect three cents a letter, since a reduction to two cents won't bring back the habit.

ROOSEVELT'S POPULARITY.

(Atmore (Ala.) Advance.

THE United Press, reporting the receipt of 25,000 letters and bundles at the White House on one day before Christmas says it was a "volume ten times greater than that enjoyed by even the most popular of previous administrations." The reason for this popularity of the President is to be found, we believe, in the belief of the average man that the occupant of the White House intends to give him a break and afford new opportunities for achievement that is worthwhile in his limited sphere.

Mr. Roosevelt may have admirable policies but the man in the streets who understand little about such matters and cares less has the feeling that though personally unknown the chief executive is his friend.

BEAUTIFUL HIGHWAYS.

(Pascagoula-Democrat-Star)

LONG have we urged beautification of the highway connecting Moss Point and Pascagoula. Often we have pointed to it as a worthy effort to be undertaken by the women's organizations of the two cities, and on occasions we have suggested that the American Legion take up the great work of love.

Now it appears that our suggestions are to be resolved into action. The CWA board has indicated that it would look with favor on a highway beautification program, and has requested Mrs. J. O. Cole of Pascagoula, to plan a project that would sex of Laurel a treat last week-end. He even wore all his chevrons, in fact it is reported he borrowed several sets to make them bigger and more easily seen.

Windy Windham spent the week end at home and was discovered out in the back yard grinding axes from force of habit.

That racket you hear each night in the recreation hall is Grayson and Grafton arguing over who is going to turn out the light plant.

The next issue of the paper will reveal the identity of the Sap. He will reveal his identity in this column and challenge the whole camp to a fight, while he watches it.

line the twin-city connecting link with trees that would endure to remind coming generations of our esthetic desires.

The way the proposition has been received, and the co-operation Mrs. Cole is receiving indicates that the Moss Point-Pascagoula highway soon may be bordered with crepe myrtle for the delight of the present generation, or with live oaks that will be revered by our children.

(McComb Enterprise)

SENATOR Luther A. Whittington has presented the legislature with a plan, which if adopted would completely revolutionize our tax system.

Senator Whittington suggests that the state assume and take over all county school and road bond issues, also eighty per cent of the county roads. He suggests that the state maintain these roads. He suggests that his plan of revenue will enable the state to function with these added obligations and at the same time reduce the cost of government fifty per cent, and without the enactment of a single constitutional amendment.

Now this is a big order, and if delivered will revive the people's belief in Santa Claus. In fact, if Senator Whittington can perform this task the voters will consolidate the offices of governor, senator and junior senators, and elect Senator Whittington to all of them simultaneously.

NOT NEEDED.

(McComb Enterprise)

IT has been often said that politicians will swap their eye teeth in order to get a pet measure passed.

In order to get a twenty-five dollar claim for a dead cow authorized for some influential constituent it is often necessary to crucify some individual to complete the deal.

It is freely said that the chances for the passage of the constitutional convention in Jackson is increasingly promising to the advocates because of recent alleged trades. Wet proponents traded with dry constitutionalists. Said the wets, "We'll vote for the constitutional convention if you'll vote for the May bill." And the trade was seemingly consummated for the vote was overwhelmingly wet. To be sure the wets were taking no chances and played their cards cunningly.

Don't ever laugh at the follies of old Rome. Don't pity the efforts of early, ignorant Englishmen. Don't grin at the Hottentots of Africa. Don't become puffed up over weakness of the orientals. The beam is in our own eye. So just pinch yourself, remind yourself that you are a Mississippian and then know the truth that Mississippians are a bunch of sap-headed dumbbells that pay tribute to politicians and who place their all upon an altar of political nothingness. After all, the voters cause it all.

AND FILM FOLKS

(For The Sea Coast Echo)

WARNER BROTHERS plan to try "Fashions of 1934" out on several of the larger cities in the country before letting it out for general release. The picture featuring gowns and dances, has a cast which includes William Powell, Frank McHugh, Bette Davis and others. "Gallant Lady," Ann Harding's latest, describes the experiences of a girl after her lover loses his life in an attempt to fly the Atlantic. Cive Brook has the masculine lead.

Will Roger's next picture after finishing "David Harum" on which he is working at present will be "Merry Andrew," the screen version of the play by Lewis Beach. He began his fifth year with Fox by announcing the signing of a new long-term contract which was eminently satisfactory to all parties concerned. "Laughing Boy," based on the Pulitzer Prize novel by Oliver La Farge and also "A Rich Widow," in which May Robson appears, have been released by MGM and will be released shortly.

The first film of the new year at Universal is "The Countess of Monte Cristo," in which Fay Wray, Paul Lukas, Roger Pryor and Patsy Kelly appear. This studio plans to produce, as rapidly as possible, the following films:

Following films:

"If I Were Rich" by William Anthony McGuire; Gloria Stuart in Edna Ferber's "Glamour" "Scotland Yard," or "United Press," as it is sometimes called; "The Human Side," by Christine Ames; "Little Man, What Now?" with Margaret Sullivan and Douglas Montgomery; "Elizabeth and Mary," and "Today We Live," by Edward Sloman.

—Rivaling "King Kong," and "The Lost World" in its imaginative qualities, but differing from them in photography, "The Land That Time Forgot," will show people in a land in which insects assume the proportions of huge monsters and men are dwarfed to comparison. Real animals will be photographed through the use of a cinematic microscope and the action of the people will be matched and superimposed on the film.

Samuel Goldwyn's "Nana," in which Anna Sten, Russian peasant girl brought to Hollywood in 1932, makes her debut, has been previewed and will be released in the near future. Miss Sten, lovely blonde knew nothing of the English language when she came to America and studied for eight and ten hours a day for a year to conquer it.

Jean Marsh, a Wampus baby star in 1932, has been given a contract by Paramount and her first part will be the feminine lead in "Murder at the Vanities," the film version of Earl Carroll's stage production.

The role of Marc Anthony in Cecil De Mille's production of "Cleopatra" will be played by Jean Marsh.

patra," which rumor had given to Frederick Marsh, has gone definitely to Harry Wilcoxon, English stage and screen actor.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

OUR SCHOOLS AND FINANCES.

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Jan. 24, 1934.

Editor Sea Coast Echo:

Dear Editor:—I read with a great deal of interest the report of the Education account of school conditions, and your splendid editorial on same. It is a very sad state for our public schools to have been allowed to suffer so much financially. Our Governor and Legislature pledged themselves to support our public school system while campaigning for office, and I think that it would be expedient for all who are interested in our public schools to write or wire his Excellency the Governor and our Representatives and Senator reminding them of their pledge and call on them to come to the assistance of the public school system immediately. Instead of being too poor to educate our children, we are too poor not to educate them, so let's call on them—our Legislators for immediate relief.

In concluding let me state that the County Supt. made a slight mistake in some figures, which he gave you, which I suppose possibly may have been typographical errors. He stated that on January 4th, 1932 there was due $12,000 to teachers and transportation contractors, when in reality there was only $3,554.25 which I had been unable to pay on account of having received neither tax money nor state aid, but having run four months on money that had been accumulated during the previous four years.

Also with reference to $8,000.00 owed for borrowed money there were $3,836.10 in the School Loan Warrant Fund to apply on that, leaving only $4,163.90 to be paid from the public school fund.

Very truly yours,

D. J. EVERETT.

Ban on Liquor Advertising Is Removed.

Repeal of the Reed amendment of 1917 prohibiting the circulation in dry states of newspapers and magazines carrying liquor advertisements, became effective January 12, when President Roosevelt signed the $50,000,000 liquor tax bill.

Introduced by Senator Bennett Clark, Democrat, of Missouri, the measure repealing the Reed amendment was voted by the Senate Thursday after only three minutes of discussion.

Prior to the enactment of the repeal measures, newspapers and periodicals containing liquor advertising were prohibited in a number of states.

POLL TAX PAYERS GET RIGHT TO VOTE UNDER NEW BILL

Tens of Thousands of Disqualified Voters Will Get Back on Poll Lists.

Tens of thousands of disfranchised Mississippi voters were given back the right to control Democratic primaries when both House and Senate of the Mississippi legislature passed bills permitting any otherwise qualified elector to vote in a primary if he has paid his poll tax the previous February.

Heretofore, voters were required to have paid all taxes due the previous February, and county and state officials have warned that taxpayers by the thousands are losing the legal right to vote.

While action will not permit taxpayers to vote in general elections unless they have paid all taxes the previous February 1, it does permit registered Democrats to select their own candidates which is equal to election in the state.

Both bills passed today provide for a separate registration of primary voters, since it is obvious that the "poll tax" voters must be kept separate from general electors, who have paid all taxes.

Although a conference committee probably will be called for to reconsider the bills passed today, one in each house, acceptance of any compromise or substitute measure is conceded.

The Senate voted unanimously for the measure, while in the house only six voted against it. Representatives Hill, Horton, McClellan, Smith of Marshall and Waits. It gained 124 votes.

Passage of the bill, which was advocated by Ex-Gov. Theo. G. Bilbo while here last week, does away with one argument against a constitutional convention. Opponents declared that so many of our best people are disfranchised, for failure to pay taxes, that they could not take part in Democratic primaries to select the convention delegates.

Parents' Association Sponsors Duke For S. J. A. Carnival

The members of S. S. C. Parents' Association at their meeting Sunday afternoon voted to sponsor a "duke" for the St. Joseph's Academy Carnival to take place February 8th.

John Dassel, popular member of the Seniors was voted to represent his class and Stanislaus in this carnival. The purpose of the carnival is to raise funds for the debt on the S. J. A. Gymnasium.

Black-Draught Clears Up Sluggish Feeling

"I have used Theodor's Black-Draught for constipation for a long time," writes Mrs. Frank Champion, of Wynne, Ark.

"I get up in the morning feeling dull and sluggish, a dose of Black-Draught taken three times a day will cause the feeling to pass away, and in a day or two I feel like a new person. After many years of use we would not exchange Black-Draught for any medicine."

P. S.—If you have children, give them the new, pleasant-tasting Syrup of Theodor's Black-Draught.

INGRATES.

(McComb Enterprise)

SOME individuals have an insatiable appetite. Some can never be satisfied. Said a tradesman the other day, "I'm as good a foramen as can be found in town. I want a job as CWA foramen."

That man is working on a CWA project, drawing down wages to the merry tune of one-dollar per hour. He'll be complaining.

One day last week we overheard a widow who receives direct relief, complaining that she gets only $10 cash per month—a mere pittance—and that she was demanding a CWA job for her son.

Complaints. Growls. Backbiting. People forget that a great government is trying to sustain its distressed people. People forget that every dollar of CWA and RFC money must be repaid into the treasury of the United States through taxes.

"CRADLE SONG" BRINGS NEW STAR TO PICTURES IN HER FIRST U. S. FILM

Will Introduce Dorothea Wieck, Paramount's Newest Continental Star.

"Cradle Song," which introduces Dorothea Wieck, Paramount's newest continental star to American audiences, will be at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday.

The picture is from the stage play of the same name by the noted Spanish author, G. M. Martinez Sierra, and the screen adaptation was made by Marc Connelly, American playwright known for the sensational stage success, "The Green Pastures."

The play, "Cradle Song," has been produced in every civilized country of the world and is a stand-by of dramatic stock companies. Paramount bought it in 1921 but held back production until they could find an actress capable of carrying the principal role, that of Joanna. The performance of Dorothea Wieck in "Maedchen in Uniform" clearly stamped her as the one person for the role, and she was signed by Paramount.

The story is a moving tale of frustrated mother love behind convent walls. Dorothea Wieck, as Joanna, enters the convent at the age of eighteen, leaving behind several small brothers and sisters whom she has raised. Her need for motherhood is almost miraculously granted when a baby is left on the convent doorstep. She is permitted to raise the child, and the mother love she would have lavished on her own children, she expends on the foundling.

The child grows to girlhood and young womanhood and brings to all the sisters in the convent a joy and happiness they could never have known without her presence. When she is eighteen, she meets and loves a young engineer. Her determination to leave her convent home throws the sisters, particularly Joanna, into a grief made all the greater by their earlier happiness.

The part of the young girl is played by Evelyn Venable, a new-comer to the screen. Prior to joining Paramount, Evelyn Venable was Walter Hampden's leading woman.

Others in the cast include Kent Taylor, Sir Guy Standing, Louise Dresser and Gail Patrick.

Misunderstood

Wife—Darling, the new maid has burned the bacon and eggs. Would you be satisfied with a couple of kisses—for breakfast?

Hubby—Sure. Bring her in.

People forget that there is a group of men working day and night in McComb without pay, neglecting their own respective business during a time of crisis, and all to the end that other men may be put to work. The compensation for this effort is fretting, fuming, fussing on the part of many men as to how they can get more.

However, we cannot overlook the fact that there are hundreds of appreciative people who, deep in their hearts are grateful to their government for benefits received. Were it not for this group it is likely that the task would be thrown down in despair and disgust. Certainly it is high time that people as a whole should manifest, at least verbally, some genuine appreciation for the government that is sustaining our nation today.

NATIONAL EVENT FOR JANUARY 30

President's Ball at Point O' Pines On Bay St. Louis to Be Largely Attended

The well-known forthcoming President's Ball to be given, Thursday, January 30, on the same night over the entire country in honor of President Roosevelt, is receiving the attention of the nation and interesting all patriotic citizens and others who are with the ennobling cause for which the money thus realized will be appropriated.

There will be more than one President's ball on the Coast. The one for this section will be given at Point O'Pines, on the Bay of St. Louis, and will be participated in both by Pass Christian and the Bay-Waveland population.

E. A. Lang, president of Pass Christian Rotary Club, is in charge of arrangements, and invites the public of Bay St. Louis and vicinity to participate. Tickets for the President's ball in all sections will be $1.50, fifty cents of each ticket to be retained locally to defray expenses and the $1.00 to be sent on to the fund for Warm Springs (Ga.) foundation fund, a project dear to the President's heart.

For this ball, however, a charge of only $1.00 per couple will be asked. This, The Echo is informed, is possible from the fact that the premises of Point O'Pines Club will be given without pay and music will also be furnished by the club's orchestra, Plantation Cotton Pickers of Detroit. There will be practically no expense to give this ball and every penny will be sent on to the general fund. This is a splendid gesture for our President and a fitting way of observing his birthday, besides, for the money the public will receive a great pleasure as well as personal satisfaction. Miss Del Bondio, Miss M. E. Bertrand and many other ladies are patronesses of this ball.

The Echo is satisfied many from this section will attend. No doubt several parties will be made and go over the bay in groups.

Pioneer Gulfport Hotel To Close; Also Radio Station and Golf Course

The final bulwark of romantic pioneering days in Gulfport will fall on March 31, when W. T. Stewart's order is carried out to close the Great Southern Hotel.

The entire Great Southern operation—golf course, radio station, and hotel—are included in the sweeping action which means a virtual withdrawal of the Stewart interests from the Mississippi Coast.

Oldtimers recognize in the present "Stewart interests" the original cornerstone of the city. It was the substantial base upon which Capt. J. Jones built the community that is now Gulfport. Until the time of his death he watched and nurtured them adding here and there, guarding them and this city with the care of the loyal pioneer that he was.

The transfer of the name from Jones to Stewart came with the marriage of the daughter of Capt. Jones to W. T. Stewart. The couple later moved their residence and citizenship from the state, and have been conducting their local operations from Buffalo, New York.

—Mrs. Ralph Sellier's many friends, here and in the county, will be pained to learn she has been ill during the past few days and has been brought back from New Orleans but is showing marked improvement, stopping at the home in care of her daughter, Mrs. Ben Hille.

—Mr. John B. Welsh, while in New Orleans on business, spent the week-end and early part of this week in Bay St. Louis, visiting friends and looking after property interests. Mr. Welsh owns one of the attractive beach places and arranged for minor repairs and painting, a decided improvement.

—Mr. and Mrs. Phaff also from Illinois, and now in Florida expect to join the Adams and Lynch families soon and will all go over to New Orleans together to spend the Carnival season. Mr. A. F. Adams was called to New York on urgent business, but will return to join his family for the Carnival festivities.

—Miramar Hotel at Pass Christian is opened for the winter season, with Walter L. Reed, formerly of the Great Southern at Gulfport, in charge of the management. Mr. Reed formerly managed the Miramar and one time edited the editorial page of The Coast Beacon at the Pass. He is both a journalist and poet of no mean ability.

—Mrs. Louis J. Spurl, of New Orleans, came out for the week-end to visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Staehle, at the family home in St. Charles street, near South Beach Boulevard. Mrs. Spurl also came out, as she frequently does, to attend a social function or more, equally popular in Bay St. Louis as in New Orleans where she is well known to a wide circle of friends.

—Mollere's Groceteria, at Waveland, is undergoing another marked improvement, a long center vegetable and fruit rack is in process of construction, of the latest and most approved type, one that will mean for better display and keep produce better and fresh. The type is of Mr. Mollere's own plan and origination and will be quite an acquisition to the big store on Coleman avenue. This is one of the several other improvements the enterprising proprietor is contemplating and planning.

—Mr. Carl Osmond Olson and his son, Billie Boardman Olson, went over to Good Hope, La., for a two-day visit to Mr. Olson's cousin, Captain Tom Larsen of the American ship "Elizabeth Kellogg", which just returned from a trip to China, Japan, Honolulu and other foreign ports—and while at the docks Mr. Olson and Billie also visited the Norwegian steamship Solsten, where they were entertained at dinner by Captain Frederick Rogen. Young Billie Olson had a wonderful time going over the ship and was accorded numerous courtesies. Captain Larsen came over with them to the Bay, he is a cousin of Mr. Olson, and his visit was highly appreciated.

EFFORT TO RETAIN CAMP P-52

Chamber of Commerce Initiates Move to Remedy Delinquency of Payment Of Reforestation Camp

K. E. Kimball, district forester, was the principal speaker at a special meeting of the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, held Friday night. The object of the meeting was to inaugurate an effort to continue Camp P-52, in Hancock county, Members, which include, many of the leading business and professional men of the county, were present. Without organized state fire protection, which the county has enjoyed, it was stated the reforestation camp would ultimately be removed.

Conditions of the county, affecting the situation, were explained. The protection tax payments have not come in at a satisfactory rate. One of the major lumber companies of the county, representing the greatest delinquency amounting to about $2200.00, which, with the Federal aid this would have brought in, represents a considerable item. "Under the circumstances," says a report, "we have been unable to maintain our regular organization in the county on the proper basis, and a great part of the fighting work has devolved upon Camp 52."

In this connection, State Forester Fred B. Merrill says in a letter: "I feel sure that the matter of non-payment of protection tax will be worked out satisfactorily with regard to the company mentioned, and that the leaders in the county wish to see forestry work in the county continued and increased as the major means of bringing the county back to a more prosperous status."

After considerable discussion of ways and means, Leo W. Seal was appointed chairman of a committee on resolutions to be presented to the legislature and their legislative bodies. Robt. L. Genin chairman of a committee to function likewise and to perform other duties. It was planned to have the committee which Mr. Seal will appoint, to visit the county and speakers at various school houses to address the people in the interest of remedying the situation and removing the cause that will take away the camp which means so much to Hancock.

Bay High Defeats Biloxi Indians, 21-12 At S. S. C. Gymnasium

(By Student Prints)
The Bay High boys defeated the Biloxi High Indians in the largest upset so far this season by the score of 21-12 at the Stanislaus Gymnasium.

The Biloxi boys went into the game with a little too much confidence and met their "Waterloo." The Indians, after defeating the Deadeaux boys by the terrific score of 67-23, came to the little town with the intentions of swamping the Tigers in easy fashion. The Indians used thirteen players, sending them in three or four at the same time trying to wear out the opposition but found that this was entirely impossible.

Dickson and Curtis Ladner tied for the high scoring honors with six points each. Dan Ziegler was runner-up with five points to his credit. The Tigers played a wonderful defensive game, playing a tight style of ball, holding the Indians to four points in the entire second half. The Indians were held to one foul goal in the last quarter of the exciting battle.

In the preliminary game, the Bay High girls fell before the Biloxi High girls by the score of 49-20. The game was played in fine fashion from start to finish. The Biloxi girls outclassed the Bay High girls but the latter showed plenty of fight throughout the game. Captain Stella Turcotte of the Blizzards was put out of the game on fouls in the early part of the game.

Some Comeback!
"And when you told him I was married," said the girl who had been married and then jilted him, "did he seem to be sorry?"
"Yes," replied the other; "he said he was very sorry—although he did not know the other man personally."

"I Do My Own Work

..... and it's fun!"

Housework used to be an ugly word. But today, for the woman who strides along with the times, it simply describes brief and pleasant moments in the happiness of every day. Hundreds of thousands of women do all the work that keeping an attractive home demands, and are still staying young in thought, young in spirit, young in body, and young in looks.

Household tasks are more easily done, more quickly done, and far more efficiently performed than in bygone days. Today's women have more time they can joyfully call their own—they have time left for living.

In the modern household, and in the kitchen especially, electric service has assumed its role of Minister to Youth and Beauty.

The kitchen—electrified—has become a delightful room, an intimate gathering place for informal parties, while the hours saved through electric servants may now be devoted to the gorgeous business of staying young and lovely.

Dedicate the new year to constructive advances in home life, and join the increasing number of women to whom housework no longer spells drudgery. Our lighting specialists, home economists, and appliance representatives will be glad to assist.

NEW PLAN OF PRICE IN SELLING CHEVROLET AUTOMOBILES

No More F. O. B. Factory Price—The Plan Will Tell Cost of Car Delivered.

(Special to The Sea Coast Echo)
Detroit, Mich., Jan. 22.—An instantaneous public response, expressed in terms of orders for retail delivery, greeted the announcement this week that hereafter Chevrolet dealers would quote only actual delivered costs instead of the conventional "f. o. b." prices on new cars and trucks.

This "new deal" in automobile merchandising, designed to drive into the open every item entering into the cost of a car to the purchaser, has been instrumental in enabling dealers to book 85,000 orders for retail delivery of new cars, according good wishes and congratulations on so happy an occasion.

Mrs. Charles Benjamin entertained on Wednesday afternoon at her hospitable home a number of friends at a Lotto party, which proved of more than ordinary enjoyment. Seasonably refreshment followed. Participating in this delightful afternoon past time were Mrs. Gus Soniat, Mrs. George Stevenson, Mrs. G. Y. Blaize, Mrs. Wm. A. Staehle, Mrs. Thomas G. Smith, Mrs. C. A. Gordon, Mrs. Claud Monti, Mrs. J. Genovese, and Mrs. John A. Green, Sr.

Gaines Kergosien, son of Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Horace L. Kergosien, celebrated his seventh natal anniversary Tuesday of this week, and a party, to which his young friends were invited, marked the occasion at the family home on South Beach Boulevard. Many remembrances and messages were received from away, especially from Monroe, La., where the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gaines, reside.

Mrs. C. M. Weeks had as her most guests to New Orleans and back during the week Mrs. Ralph Ragan, Mrs. George E. Pitcher, Mrs. H. de Ben, Mrs. Joseph R. Scharff, Mrs. Charles G. Moreau, Mrs. Carl Marshall.

to reports to William E. Holler, general sales manager of the company.

The immediate result of the new policy was a flood of wires and expressions of appreciation from both dealer and the public to Mr. Holler commending his new plan for its sincerity and honesty in driving the "pack" or increase, out of the difference between list, or f. o. b. prices, and the actual cost of the car to the customer.

"Hereafter," he said, "we are going to quote only final delivered prices. The customer wants to know how much automobile will cost standing in front of his home. Under our new plan, he will be spared the unpleasantness of discovering that his car eventually cost him many dollars more than he had originally planned.

"The expressions I have already received from both dealers and the public indicate that the plan won quicker and more enthusiastic general support than we had believed possible. The public naturally has welcomed a plan which ends doubt and misunderstandings; and the dealers are equally enthusiastic about it because it facilitates their dealings with prospective customers, who often blamed the dealer for the extra amount piled on the quoted, or list, price when the car was delivered.

"Many wires from dealers declared that the new plan, when made public in their localities, added measurably to the good will which the Chevrolet name enjoyed among their customers."

The plan was generally regarded in trade circles here as the most revolutionary merchandising step ever made in the automobile industry since it attained its present size. "While the automobile industry," said Mr. Holler, "is generally regarded as the most progressive in the world, it was woefully out of date in some of its operations. One of the worst was its persistent clings to 'f. o. b.' price listings.
